CASH KIDNAPER DIES IN CHAIR

'Take It Easy,' M'Call Tells Sheriff

FRANKLIN McCALL

Last Mile—Franklin Pierce McCall today walked the last mile at Raiford, Fla., for kidnap-murder of Jimmy Cash, 5, at Princeton, Fla., last May. "Take it easy," he told nervous sheriff.

Saved . . . for Spanking—"From now on, stay away from Commercial wharf," says Joseph Lanzilla of North End to his son, Alfred, 8, and impresses the order by hand. Joseph and his brother, Eugene, 12, were rescued by two youths, who dragged them to safety.

Hungary Jails 500 In Purge of Nazis, But Wars on Reds

BUDAPEST, Feb. 24 (AP)—The government undertook today to smash the Hungarists, leading National Socialist party of Hungary, and at the same time formally joined Germany, Italy and Japan in their accord against international Communism.

The anti-Comintern pact was signed by Foreign Minister Count Stephen Cseky at the foreign office ceremony. German Minister Otto von Erdmannsdorff, Japanese Minister Hajima Matsuyama and Italian Charge D'Affaires Oreste Formentini were present.

The Hungarian Nazi party was banned as a danger to public safety and the party's property was confiscated.

More than 500 persons had been arrested by early afternoon. Political police occupied a grey stone apartment building in Andrássy street which had been the Nazi headquarters.

Detectives were studying the party's long membership lists. They found the names of many prominent citizens.

BAN NAZI SYMBOL

All over the country the Hungarian Nazi party symbol—crossed arrows—was disappearing. Police were scraping the emblem from walls and billboards and merchants sympathetic to the Nazis

Stock Gains Run to $3

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Quiet rallying tendencies prevailed in today's stock market. Gains ran from $1 to $3.

JUDGE H. F. ATKINSON (left) AS HE READ DEATH SENTENCE TO F. P. MCCALL (right).

read the death warrant to McCall in the latter's cell half an hour before the execution.

This required five minutes. As the sheriff read, McCall moved from one foot to the other. He looked at Coleman three or four times, otherwise gazed at the floor.

When Coleman finished, McCall said to him in a calm, even voice: "Well, Mr. Coleman, I want you to know that I understand your position and you just take it easy."

It was Coleman who arrested the kidnaper and turned him over to federal bureau of investigation agents.

PROTESTS INNOCENCE

McCall went to the chair calmly after reading aloud a handwritten manuscript in which he reasserted his innocence of crime. He compared his case to that of Christ.

"Judith Iscariot sold Christ for 30 pieces of silver," the husky young minister's son read from the paper. "It would be interesting to know how much someone got in this case."

He said he did not believe in capital punishment because "it does not deter from crime."

McCall said, however, he preferred death "in this chair" to another year of "unjust imprisonment."

He praised Prison Superintendent Chapman for his "very humane" act in granting a postponement of the execution from last

BITTER WORDS FLY AT HEARING ON NEW CIVIL SERVICE BILL

Just so long as the civil service commissioner is appointed by a governor, he will hold his job only if he does the governor's will, a legislative committee was told today at the State House.

Clashes between members of the committee on state administration, hearing the bill, and proponents of a bill to reorganize the present commission marked the hearing.

HELPED DRAFT BILL

Under the bill a new civil service board would be organized and James E. O'Neil, present chief examiner at $5100, would be made director of civil service at $7500.

One member of the recess commission, William A. McCarthy of Belmont, said he questioned the legality of many of the civil service meetings during the past two years because of the absence of Bayard.

McCarthy asserted he had a verbal ruling from Attorney General Dever that civil service meetings were not legal unless the full commission were present.

The reorganization bill, McCarthy declared, is "a step forward in the right direction."

"IT'S A MADHOUSE"

McCarthy said: "I would like the members of your committee to go down and see for yourself how the civil service department is conducted. It's a madhouse."

"I don't think a politician should be the head of the department. The bill we propose will give an honest administration of civil service laws without any loopholes."

"During our investigation a lot of records of the department couldn't be found. There was nothing in the records as to why non-competitive examinations were given. We found many cases where marks had

GOES THROUGH ICE SAVING DOG'S LIFE

Risking his own life to save a drowning dog, Elliott Rockwell, 22, of Epping street, Cambridge, plunged into the icy waters of the Charles River, off Mt. Auburn street, Cambridge, today.

Rockwell, a helper on an oil truck driven by Joseph Dearborn of South Boston, jumped off the truck when he heard a woman scream that a dog was drowning.

He found a ladder nearby, pushed it out on the ice, and crawled toward the dog. The ice broke under him, but he managed to save both the dog and himself. The dog and the woman who screamed both disappeared.

Rockwell was taken to Mt. Auburn Hospital.

GARMENT STRIKE LOOMS

Another strike among Boston garment workers was called a possibility today, following an enthusiastic pre-strike mass meeting of 1500 workers in the Hotel Bradford.

What, Chief On Beat? Maybe

HUDSON, Feb. 24—For "the sake of economy," the town's finance commission recommended today the acting chief and acting sergeant of the police department quit their comfortable desks at headquarters and go out on beats, permitting curtailment of the number of patrolmen.

"No comment," said Acting Chief James T. Connelley.

Acting Sergeant Fred L. Clark said: "I'll have to be all thrashed out at town meeting a week from Monday."

TO BE BRIDE — Princess Fawzia, 16-year-old sister of Egypt's boy king, Farouk, awaited the arrival of her bridegroom-to-be, Crown Prince Mohamed Riza Pahlavi, 19. They will be married March 16 in Teheran, Iran.

HARVARD SAVANT, BRIDGMAN SPLIT

At least one of his Harvard colleagues took sharp issue today with Dr. P. W. Bridgman, world famous physicist, on his proposed closing of his laboratory to citizens of totalitarian states.

Prof. Filirin A. Sorokin, head of Harvard's department of sociology, pointed out that results of scientific research work are usually published and thus become available to all nations.

Far from excluding Nazi or Fascist visitors from his classes, he said, he would welcome them in the hope of opening their minds to the ideals of freedom and democracy.

Professor Sorokin conceded that closing laboratories engaged in way problems to totalitarian visitors "may be advisable."

As for the social sciences, he said, he believes "totalitarian visitors should by all means be invited to read and listen and study all the social theories different from theirs, especially those critical on the whole of the ideology of totalitarianism."

Declaring his contempt for dictators, Dr. Bridgman said cessation of scientific intercourse would make more difficult their misuse of scientific finds. He stressed that the move did not reflect the policy of the university but only his own views.

Among the Harvard savant's discoveries are changes in rocks and minerals under pressure up to 1,000,000 pounds per square inch. Another shows a definite limit to the pressure which can be produced in a cylindrical barrel, like that of a gun.

Lynn Man Dies Riding to First Job in Months

Returning to work at last after months of unemployment, 32-year-old Daniel J. Fordham of School street, Lynn, was cheerfully sure today his worries were over.

He was right about that. But he didn't get to the job.

He dropped dead on an Eastern Massachusetts bus.

It was taking him to the Barnet Leather Company plant in Lynn. He was to report there for his first day's work since he was laid off last summer.

Fordham's collapse occurred as his bus was passing along Market street, Lynn.

Weeping Party For Defeated

In the matter of testimonial banquets, James Mede, unsuccessful candidate for Revere city council, today issued invitations for a "weeping party" to all defeated candidates in the last elections.

The party will be given, Mede said, on March 20 in a Beachmont Inn, and in addition to a handkerchief being at each guest's plate, there will be paper and pencil so that he can figure out how he got licked.

Invitations will go, among others, to Alf Landon of Kansas, former Governor Curley and Hurley, former Lieutenant-Governor Francis E. Kelly, Alonzo Cook, and to Walter I. Butler of Revere, who once was nearly elected treasurer. Butler, as the heaviest man present, will be toastmaster, Mede said.

Girl Drops Charges Against Quincy Cops

Though the girl in the case withdrew all charges, two Quincy policemen who drove her home were under suspension today on charges of conduct unbecoming officers.

The girl is Marie Morgan, 25, of Central street, Saugus, who was found wandering in Saugus in a dazed condition and removed to the Lynn Hospital.

There she identified the men who had driven her home as Patrolmen John E. Reid and John F. Worth. She said that after she stepped out of the car she was struck on the head and the blow had dazed her.

After consultation with Mayor Thomas S. Burgin, Chief of Police John J. Avery of Quincy suspended the two patrolmen, then went to Lynn hospital to interview the girl.

Miss Morgan finally said she did not remember what happened to her.

3 SEIZED AT HAVERHILL STILL IN DRIVE ON N. E. BOOTLEG RING

HAVERHILL, Feb. 24—The largest unlawful liquor plant in New England, capable of turning out 1000 gallons of alcohol a day, was out of operation here today as a result of a raid by federal agents.

The still, which had a capacity of 1800 gallons, was valued at $6000.

Awaiting arraignment before a

United States Commissioner are Jasper Camarata, 34, of London street, Boston; Dominic DiPietro, 23, of Wheeler street, Lynn, and Anthony Messina, 21, of Stanton street, Revere.

According to the authorities, the federal men on three previous occasions almost caught up with the still operators.

Once in Lexington, once in Waltham, and once in Norfolk they prepared a case and finally walked in on the plant, only to find it partially dismantled and the operators gone.

BUILT OWN ROAD

In order to escape observation here, the operators built a private road a mile and a half long, ending in a dead end at the plant.

The distilling plant, federal agents said, was the main New England distributing point for a mob with New York connections. Federal officials had been investigating the still for eight months. They said that DiPietro was operator of a truck bearing Rhode Island plates, which was about to take a shipment of alcohol for delivery. All three defendants were charged with operating a distillery without a permit and manufacturing illicit alcohol.

READY TO FLEE

Seven agents, led by David Miller, federal alcohol bureau officer, and Patrolmen Emmett Prince and Ralph Woodburn of Haverhill's liquor squad, participated in the raid.

With drawn guns they surrounded the farmhouse shortly after midnight. At a signal they advanced on the three men as they were about to drive away on a fully loaded truck.

The men offered no resistance and were locked up at Haverhill police headquarters for arraignment later in Lowell.

According to federal agents, the arrests were the first in a roundup of a state-wide bootleg ring.

Secrecy Guards Fleet 'Battle'

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—Developments in the supposedly "zero hour" phase of the naval war games testing America's defenses against an attack in the vital West Indies area remained a closely guarded secret today as President Roosevelt's flagship swung away from the Virgin Islands.

Whether a decisive "battle" in the three weeks of maneuvers by "White" and "Black" fleets had been fought was a question officials apparently were not prepared as yet to confirm.

UNWED NAZIS MUST PAY 55 PER CENT OF TAXABLE INCOMES

BERLIN, Feb. 24 (AP)—Unmarried men and women in Germany were hit hard by a revision of the income tax law, published today, enabling the government to take up to 55 per cent of their taxable incomes.

It increased the tax on bachelors and unmarried working women by 12½ per cent, provided that the increase does not make their total tax payments exceed 53 per cent of income.

An official statement said that the revision was drafted to equalize certain tax rates "for the general benefit of all" and because of "the extraordinarily large financial needs of the Reich."

How much new revenue it would produce was not disclosed.

As an inducement to have children the law provides that childless couples married five years with an income exceeding 1800 marks ($720) annually can be taxed up to 45 per cent of their income.

The exact percentage of the increase in such cases was not stated. The law also abolished exemptions permitted hitherto for payment of church taxes and the 600 mark ($240) exemption allowed for each domestic servant employed.

POPE'S ESTATE TO HOLY SEE

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 24 (AP)—L'Osservatore Romano disclosed today that the late Pope Pius XI left all his possessions to the Holy See except for some personal objects which he instructed be distributed among his closest assistants.

The Vatican City newspaper said the Pontiff's last testament named as executors his two private secretaries, Monsignor Carlo Confalonieri and Diego Venzani.

It said the will consisted of a few pages written in the Pope's own hand. The first page was dated May 31, 1927, and the last Jan. 16, 1928.

The last sheet was prefaced with the words:

"That which herewith follows are the dispositions of my last desires in the holy name of the good and blessed God."

He referred to his personal possessions as of "not great pecuniary value."

Several objects of artistic or sacred value were left to the Vatican library, the Christian Museum and other institutions in which he had a special interest.

The final page contained provisions for disposal of the Pontiff's body. It read:

"I dispose with especial wish that my body may be deposited intact near and behind the resting place of Pius X, of dear and venerable memory, who summoned me to the Vatican library, and not far from that of Benedict XV, also of dear and venerable memory, who so shortly before his death summoned me to the See of Saints Ambrogio and Carlo and to the Sacred College of Cardinals."

"Many persons, who never ceased coming to pray at their tombs, will have, we are confident, thought and prayer also for their unworthy successor."

Cardinal O'Connell Sails for Morocco

SANTA CRUZ, Tenerife, Feb. 24.—The S. S. Saturnia, bearing Cardinal O'Connell, left here today for her next port of call with the Boston prelate confident he will reach Rome in time to vote for the new Pope.

The ship was to reach Casablanca, French Morocco tomorrow morning. Due at Algiers Monday the Cardinal will transfer to the M. S. Neptunia in order to speed his arrival at the Vatican conclave.

According to a new return schedule, announced today, he will leave Italy April 1 on the Saturnia arriving in New York, April 12.

A 14-hour stay in this pleasant island city was enjoyed to the fullest by the Cardinal, apparently in excellent health.

Pope's Election Signal Tested

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 24 (AP)—Smoke rose from a special Sistine Chapel chimney for the first time in 17 years today in a test of the antiquated arrangement by which the election of a new Pope is announced to the public.

The three American Cardinals were assured the finest apartments in the papal palace during the conclave which starts March 1. Cells on the third floor, most elaborate of all, were assigned to foreign and aged Cardinals.

Forked Words

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24 (AP)—Usually it's the husband who gets in dutch for using the wrong fork.

But blonde Iris Moore, beauty parlor operator, divorced Richard Moore, a drug clerk, because, she testified:

"No matter where we were he would always pick a quarrel at dinner because of the way I handled my fork, or because of the fork I used."

'OF THESE, ONE WILL BE POPE'

How seriously the gathering cardinals regard their solemn duty of choosing a successor to Pope Pius XI when the conclave meets next Wednesday is described today by Hugh Walpole, celebrated novelist.

By HUGH WALPOLE

(World copyright, 1939, by International News Service)

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 24 (INS)—Looking down from the windows of the Vatican museum on the Belvedere courtyard today I saw a magnificent sight—a pageant of Cardinals.

I witnessed something that only a few visitors have ever seen before, because this procession of Cardinals moving in their magnificent colors for their daily congregation and passing through the courtyard, can happen only in a week preceding a conclave in which a new Pope will be chosen. There were some 30 of them slowly, majestically crossing and vanishing through the door at the far end of the court. Some of them are very old but I noticed how erect they seemed, and conscious of their specially important position at this particular time.

They are experiencing a moment of grace and almost awe-inspiring power. When, once from among them all a Pope has been chosen, they again become the heads of their own special dioceses. But now, for a fortnight, they are the directing heads of the Roman Catholic church of all the world.

POPE'S POWERS ABSOLUTE

Never before, perhaps since the middle ages has the actual power of the Pope been so deeply realized.

The Pope's powers are literally absolute. As the supreme teacher and ruler of the faithful, it rests with him and him alone to control every department of the church's life. It is his right and his alone to set forth the creed and to determine when and by whom an explicit profession of faith should be made.

The Pope alone can establish a university. To him belongs the direction of Catholic missions throughout the world. It is his duty and his alone to prohibit reading of subjects injurious to faith or morals. He alone can order the solemn canonization of a saint.

At the same time he is himself circumscribed by his spirit and love for his church, by the respect due the general council, by the rights of bishops and by his relation with the civil power.

It is with this last, perhaps, that we come to the problem that must be in the minds of every cardinal this week.

"EVERY MAN EQUAL"

The Pope holds it as his absolute creed that every man born alive is the equal of every other man and must have equal rights. They are all the children of God and he is their father. But the new Pope will be living and guiding his children in a world containing many other doctrines.

Pope Pius XI was especially tender to individuals. The very humblest man and woman and the very smallest village had from him the same attention that any great potentate could obtain.

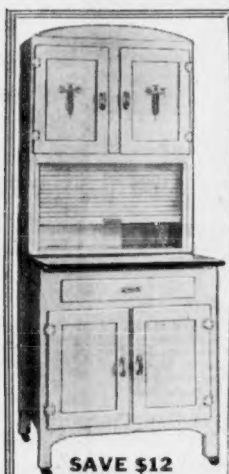

Many of these cardinals have this very love and care for the individual.

But they must, too, as they find coming closer and closer to them the world important decision of next week, wonder how, if the election fall on them, they will modify this power that will be theirs with this love of man which is their chief duty.

It is deeply dramatic to realize that of men moving in today's congregation, one within a fortnight or so will be raised so high.

Those scarlet figures moving across the green courtyard will need next week both the deepest humility and acutest, most comprehensive wisdom.

VAPORIZED GEMS 'BLOT OUT' GLASS

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 24—Sapphires and quartz, heated until they become vapors, coat ordinary glass so that it becomes almost completely transparent and "invisible."

The melted gems and rock make the strongest coating yet discovered and were announced today as forecasting films which will be "even more rugged than the glass itself."

"Invisible glass," a discovery announced two months ago simultaneously by the General Electric Company and by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is the most spectacular advance in use of glass in scientific history.

The coated glass transmits more than 99 per cent of light, against 92 per cent for the best untreated glass. No light can be seen to reflect from this filmed glass.

Today's announcement, made by C. Hawley Cartwright and A. Francis Turner of M. I. T., to the American Physical Society, appears to solve the making of a film that will stick.

In the original discoveries these two men used evaporation to coat their glass, while General Electric used a dipping method.

Added to the evaporated jewel discovery announced today was another, at Massachusetts Tech, that films of differing thickness will result equally well in transmitting all the light and stopping reflection. This means that a wider variety of materials can be used. It led the Massachusetts men to report:

"The present work on composite films indicates that films may soon be made which will greatly reduce reflection and be even more rugged than the glass itself."

Probe 2d Firm on Wage, Hour Law

Girl witnesses under subpoena paraded into a federal grand jury room today as the government sought indictment of a second Lawrence shoe firm accused of violation of wages and hours and Social Security laws.

The grand jury proceedings were seen as opening a drive by federal authorities against many Massachusetts employers alleged to be evading or ignoring social legislation.

The girl witnesses were shoe makers asked to tell of "unfair practices" in their shop.

Many of them young and attractive, they created a stir in the Federal building as they were ushered into ante rooms to await their turn to testify.

Appearing for the government as Special Assistant U. S. Attorney-General Joseph E. Brill, chief of the wage and hour unit of the Department of Justice.

BETTE DAVIS WINS

The main issue at the dinner, of course, was the awarding of "Oscar," the most coveted distinction in the film industry, to Bette Davis, opposite Tracy and Frank Capra, for the best actress and director in coming pictures.

Writers in some cases important cases advised their actions for the first time but receiving the attention of their friends was to receive the "Oscar" for the first time in the history of the Academy.

Miss Davis, being the favorite of the audience, was the first to be chosen for her part in "Jezebel" for William Fox, and she was the only one to the director of William Fox. It was in 1935 that her role in "Jezebel" was her the same.

Stand by the free defense of the National Lawyers Guild by Judge Ferdinand Pecora of New York who said it was understood by Communists. Massachusetts members of the Eastern chapter of the guild rallied today to save the organization here.

Joseph B. Harrington, Salem attorney, pleaded with all members of the guild, which he needs, to remain loyal.

At the same time, he admitted the New York group was bringing the Red Index, a list of alleged radicals and unimpeachable persons.

When confronted with the Pecora statement, but most of them expressed a will to stick with the Eastern chapter.

Attorney Walter H. Haines of "Knowledge" said he had found the chapter here composed of conservative Massachusetts lawyers, neither communist nor Fascist.

Harrington, agreeing in part with Judge Pecora, said: "Nois minorities are damaging the reputation of the guild in New York. Whatever is the situation there, it is sure that the Eastern chapter here is not influenced or controlled by Communists. The need for the guild will continue. I intend to stand by, hoping other lawyers will do the same."

Friars' Benefit For Hospitals

The Friars Club of Boston, whose members number many of New England's outstanding actors, authors and theater men, will give its first annual Friars' Fund and Motion Picture Ball at Boston Garden next month. The date has not been definitely decided.

Maurice Wolf, district manager for Metro-Goldwyn Mayer and the club's president, and Ed Smith, theater operator and chairman of the board of trustees, are now in New York negotiating for the leading "name" talents.

A feature of the ball will be the selection of a New England girl for a Hollywood film career.

Proceeds of the affair will be devoted to the purchase of a special truck and portable motion picture sound equipment for use in hospitals. With a special amplifier and sound to music in charge, they will be the means of providing the latest in movie entertainment for hospital patients and shut-ins on a regular theater-outlet looking arrangement.

'Macbeth' Stays At Copley

Federal Theatre's "Macbeth," which was to have terminated its Copley Theatre engagement tomorrow, has been renewed as distance brings home to the club a "new" weeks extension of its run, ordered by John B. Mack, state director.

The extension, which will eradicate hundreds of high school students who have not yet viewed it to see this enormously popular production, was automatically postponed by preliminary and under engagement of the Federal Theatre's Gilbert and Sullivan department. The latter will be presented by the WPA New York company.

Scolley, Modern Bills Change

Irish, English Boxers Coming

Armstrong to Get $50,000 in England

THE IRISH-AMERICAN A. A. is planning an international amateur boxing show at the Garden that will feature teams from Ireland, England and the United States . . . George Freeman has already signed the Irish team, and is in New York today trying to make arrangements with A. A. U. authorities for bringing the English boxers here . . . While in New York, Freeman will take in the Lou Ambers-Baby Arizmendi tussle at the house that Tex built.

Ambers, boxing at the top of his form, should win . . . In such an event, Al Weill tells me, he will point Ambers for a bout with Hammering Henry Armstrong for the world's lightweight championship . . . Ambers has the necessary speed to give Armstrong a hard battle . . . Slow boxers like Ceferino Garcia, even though they are terrific punchers, will never be able to win from Armstrong.

Armstrong, Johnny Rogers reveals, is going to England in May to get $50,000 for a June bout with Ernie Roderick, British welterweight champion . . . Rogers closed the match with Eddie Meade, manager of Armstrong . . . The double champion's contract calls for a guarantee of $40,000 with $10,000 for expenses . . . This shouldn't be difficult to take.

Henry Chmielewski, Polish middleweight, will try to use his machine gun tactics on Johnny Rossi of Worcester once more tonight . . . Chmielewski was given the name "Machine Gun" by Harry Kelley who contends that the Polish star tosses leather faster than anybody he has ever seen in action.

Steve Casey, back from a successful mat campaign in the Middle West, is in town to begin training for his world's championship battle with "The Shadow" at the Garden on next Thursday night . . . Casey dropped into Harry Kelley's Gym to engage in a workout, and also to take a peek at Brother Tom who is punching the bag and doing some boxing as he prepares to take another fling at the ring game . . . Tom did considerable boxing in Ireland and in England.

Frankie Ryan Will Help Suffolk Downs

I DO NOT KNOW how much Frankie Ryan knows about horse racing, but I do know that he will be of great help to Suffolk Downs in his new duties as director of ballyhoo . . . Ryan did an excellent job on publicity at Harvard and also with the Bruins . . . With his background as a sports writer, Frankie will not require much time to find his way around the race track . . . Floyd Bell will also remain in the Suffolk Downs picture.

Tom Sheehan will be back at Suffolk Downs writing race features . . . Tom has been spending the Winter in Miami writing special articles for newspapers and magazines from the "Magic City" . . . Not to mention parading through the bright spots at night with Dave Wilson and "Clocker" Bill Smith . . . Walter Kiley is on his way back from a vacation in Florida, and will soon be busy arranging the many details in connection with the Boston Evening American-Daily Record bowling tournament that will open at the Huntington alleys on March 25, and continue through April 8 . . . Don't fail to send along your entry.

Now that Westport has lost its racing dates, Great Barrington will try to obtain 31 days of racing . . . Westport also lost the license it received last December . . . This will mean that Suffolk Downs, Narragansett Park and Rockingham Park will be able to work out a date arrangement . . . The New England racing season will open at Narragansett Park on April 22.

Roy Worcester New Heavyweight Star

ROY WORCESTER, who hails from Columbia, Falls, Me., dropped into this office accompanied by Bill Brennan and Bill Geagan, famous Maine sports writer . . . Worcester is a heavyweight fighter, and certainly looks the part . . . He is 21 years old, weighs 206 pounds and is six feet three inches tall.

Bill Geagan declares that Worcester has been boxing for almost two years, and that during this time he won the amateur and professional heavyweight championships of Maine . . . Worcester, says Geagan, is exceptionally fast for a big fellow, and packs a kayo wallop in each hand.

Worcester comes of American stock, and is a perfect type for a real Yankee heavyweight.

100 Years of Baseball

McGraw Rated Greatest Of All Diamond Leaders

By SID MERCER
CHAPTER 12

Back in 1914, Tim Murnane, a veteran Boston player and baseball writer, named this all-star team: Cy Young and Bobby Caruthers, pitchers; Charley Bennett, catcher; Adrian C. Anson, 1b; Ross Barnes, 2b; Ed Williamson, 3b; Honus Wagner, ss; Ty Cobb, Joe Jackson and Bill Lange, outfielders.

Anson, Barnes, Williamson and Lange make no modern all-star teams; neither does Ed Delehanly, one of the greatest distance hitters. Yet Murnane's selections were made after he saw Carrigan's Red Sox. McGraw's championship teams up to 1914 and four of Connie Mack's pennant winners.

The balloting for players to be was thus brought to a permanent position behind the plate.

The foul strike rule was the result of good hitters becoming expert in fouling off balls purposely to tire the pitcher or to get the ball they like to hit.

Ranking the outstanding performers is a matter of opinion and for the old-timers we must depend Hal Chase, 1b; Nap Lajoie, 2b; Honus Wagner, ss; Jimmy Collins, 3b; Cobb, Speaker and Ruth outfielders.

John J. McGraw, in this writer's opinion, was the greatest manager. He combined qualities of leadership with aggressiveness, quick judgment, foresight, inventiveness and adaptability to situations. Bill Klem tops the umpires.

McGraw was the first to patronize first-class hotels and to take his Giants off trolley cars and put them in taxicabs.

This review of baseball's growth is too brief to tell the story of the minor leagues, college and playground baseball. They all deserve separate chapters.

WHAT WILL FUTURE BRING?

After 100 years of trials and tribulations the structure of Organized Baseball is a bulwark of professional sport.

Baseball is governed from within and because of the class of men it has attracted as investors it is the best governed sport in the world.

If it were at the mercy of poliimmortalized in baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown is placing stars of the last 20 or 25 years ahead of equally brilliant or superior performers of the era between 1900 and 1915.

A special committee selects the old timers who flourished between 1869 and 1900.

There should be another committee to base on glamorous figures who decorated the box scores for 15 years after the turn of the century.

BASEBALL STYLES CHANGED

It must be remembered that baseball styles underwent many changes from 1876 to 1920. There is no logical way to compare the old-time pitchers and hitters with the moderns up to 1900.

Since 1900 there have been few important rule changes. Preciseness of play has consistently improved. Before 1910 few clubs carried more than six pitchers.

Frank deliveries, including the "spitter," were not abolished until 1920. The lively ball came in about that time, batters started swinging from their heels and the home run orgies began.

Use of fielders' gloves did not become common until after 1880. McGinnis, a Fall River catcher, introduced the catcher's big mitt in 1875. Fred Thayer, of Boston, invented the catcher's mask, which was first worn by James Tyng, of the Harvard team.

In 1887 the number of strikes permitted was increased from three to four, but that rule was rescinded after one season and since then it has been "three strikes and out."

Bases on balls were scored as base hits in 1887, six balls being allowed in 1886 and five in 1887. In 1889 the number of called balls was placed at four and has since so remained.

ORIOLES "SCIENTIFIC" The pitching distance was fixed in 1880 at 60½ feet—the same as it is today, although it was subsequently shortened an inch.

In that year the pitcher's box was abolished and a 12x7 marble slab substituted. Foul bunts became strikes in 1894.

That season the Baltimore Orioles introduced "inside" baseball by using secret signs and devising trick plays on offense and defense.

The last radical change was the foul strike rule, adopted in 1901.

Up to that time the catcher had played far back of the batter unless there were runners on base or two strikes on the batter. The catcher

Following out the idea of an all-star team we rate them this way:

ticians with different rules for different States—as in boxing—it would soon wither.

What will the next 100 years bring forth?

(This concludes Sid Mercer's absorbing series of baseball's first century.)

CANADIENS SURPRISE CLUB IN HOCKEY LOOP

By BILL GRIMES

A week ago, the National Hockey League enthusiasts, especially the Montreal branch, counted Les Canadiens out of the running for one of the six play off berths.

Then, with but 13 available players, Acting Manager Jules Dugal piloted the Flying Frenchmen to victory in both ends of a home and home series with the New York Americans.

Immediately, they learned that Canadiens had picked up four points over the week-end, the Montreal fans climbed back on the French band wagon.

There's much jubilation in Montreal today for last night, the Americans knocked off the sixth place Chicago Black Hawks and the Detroit Red Wings, who are in fifth place, one and one-half games up on the Frenchmen, were beaten by Rangers.

FAVORED BY HOME GAMES

With a game in hand to Chicago and Detroit, Les Canadiens are only two points out of sixth place. And, moreover, the Flying Frenchmen still have home and home series to play with both the Black Hawks and the Red Wings.

As I see it, the Red Wings have the toughest schedule from here in. Starting in New York on March 5, Manager Jack Adams' charges will play five games in nine days. And, as the Red Wings are not rated as a good away-from-home club, "Smilin' Jack" is in a bad spot for the Wings move into Boston after meeting the Americans in Gotham, then up to Montreal and finally over to Toronto before returning home to play the Leafs on March 12.

However, the Flivver City sextet will wind up with season at home, against Canadiens and the Black Hawks.

It's doubtful if the Flying Frenchmen will pick up any lost ground during their next four games, for after a home and home series with Rangers this week-end, they will be at the Garden Tuesday night to tackle the Bruins and on Thursday next will be hosts to Toronto in the Forum.

STEWART MISSED

But, four of their last six games will be with Chicago and Detroit, which should at least retain the interest in the battle.

The Black Hawks are a demoralized club. With Paul Thompson out of action, the Hawks haven't any worthwhile punch and simply mull around hoping for the best. Also, they are getting jittery thinking of the disgrace that will fall on them in the event that they finally land, in the cellar, after winning the Stanley Cup a year ago.

The Chicago Club didn't aid its cause, however, by turning Bill Stewart loose in the middle of the season. Since the departure of Dorchester Bill, the Hawks have been on the down grade and it's almost an even bet that they will hit bottom before they finish the defense of their world's title.

On the other hand, Les Canadiens have displayed better form under the co-handling of Jules Dugal and Babe Siebert. And, if they make the play off, Siebert will be entitled to trial as a regular manager next season.

Ambers 135 3-4, Arizmendi 136

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Bakely Arizmendi, the Mexican husky, and former lightweight champion Leo Ambers, of Hickory, N. Y., were only a quarter of a pound apart on the scales when they weighed in today for their 12-round battle in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Both were just over the lightweight limit, Arizmendi scaling 136 and Ambers 135 3/4.

Martin Victor Over Costello

FALL RIVER, Feb. 24—George Martin, 147 1/2, Boston, gained an easy decision over Kayo Costello, 124 1/2, Bait, in the 10 round headline fight at the Casino before 1400 fans.

Galento Stops Feldman in 3d

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—Tony Galento, the people's choice, scored a technical knockout over the veteran heavyweight, Abe Feldman, in the third round of a scheduled 10-rounder at Burdine Stadium. Referee Dave Miller of Chicago stopped it when Feldman went to his knees, helpless, from a left to the body after 31 1/2 seconds of the round.

Feldman didn't go out the easy way like too many of Tony's opponents have recently. He was knocked down three times in the second round for counts of 8, 8 and 7, and took a terrific pasting. He protested volubly when Miller stopped it, the $425 paying customers got their money's worth.

Aintree Favorite Falls in 'Chase

LANCHESTER, Eng., Feb. 24 (AP)—C. C. Royal, Danieli, favorite for the March 24 running of the Grand National, fell today in the Stayers Handicap.

The three-and-a-half-mile steeplechase was won by Lord Handington's Hundy Mundy. Royal, Danieli, carried top weight of 175 pounds, the same impost he has been assigned for the Grand National.

Col. W. E. Poul's Inversdale, also a Grand National candidate, was second, six lengths back, while J. Sugden's Frankie T. was third.

SKIERS! HERE'S YOUR MENU FOR THE WEEK-END: Take an old base of crust and ice, sprinkle well with plenty of powder that fell Wednesday, add a clear, crisp, blue-skyish day, and mix well with lots of skiing.

That is what skiers should feast on tomorrow and Sunday, providing conditions remain as good as they are AT THIS WRITING, SKIERS!

THE BOSTON AND MAINE SUNDAY SNOW TRAIN is planned to go to Plymouth, N. H. This may be the last one-day snow train, although all week-end trains will be operated through March.

The Boston and Maine, when weather finally "puts the regular Sunday Snow Train" in mothballs, will continue week-end trips of the "Snow Trains" so long as there is skiing, and a limited number of special Sunday "Skier's Special" trips will be operated from Boston to Lincoln, N. H., with connecting highway service for the Cannon Mountain Tramway. The "Skier's Special" to the Tramway will be operated as many Sundays as sufficient patronage is offered, while snow remains on the Cannon Mountain trails.

SKII SCOOP: Any skier who goes to the South Station Theater to view the thrilling "short" entitled "SKI GIRL" on the new program opening today may not recognize the star of the film as she descends the steepest incline in the Alps, giving a masterful exhibition of skiing technique. The girl, it seems, is none other than Boston's own MARY BIRD YOUNG, former U. S. Olympic ski team member in 1936.

This movie was produced and photographed by her husband, and is pictorially perfect. In the skiing shots, Mrs. Young wears a flaring skating skirt instead of ski pants. Quite a feat! Incidentally, we think we saw her on Cannon Mountain last Sunday.

plus time penalties for falls. The penalty for each fall will be equivalent to 10 per cent of the best running time made during the race, rounded up to the next full second. Any part of the body above the ankles touching the snow will be considered as a fall. Observers will be stationed along the trail as fall judges. Who will BE the "fall guys?"

'No Fall Race' Scheduled Sunday on Thunderbolt Trail

A "NO-FALL RACE," the first major downhill ski race in the country in which this condition will be held, is scheduled for Sunday on the Thunderbolt trail in Adams, Mass. The Mount Greylock Ski Club of Putfield is sponsoring the event and donating a trophy which the winner will hold for one year.

This race is a great step towards making skiing safe and encouraging controlled running in place of the "schuss-and-crash" technique found on New England trails. Skill—not speed—will be the chief requisite here.

Since the race is an "open" event, a score of the leading FIS amateurs now in New England as ski instructors are expected to compete against a selected group of A and B rating amateurs from 26 leading eastern ski clubs.

The final time for each racer will be the sum of his running time

JUMPING MEET AND U. S. SKI TEAM TRIALS to be held at the great ski jump hill in Berlin, N. H., is the top winter sports event listed for this week-end. The trials are for the selection of the ski team members who will represent the United States in 1940 at the F. I. S. world championships in Norway. The Berlin winter carnival is also planned for tomorrow and Sunday.

Incidentally, a fund is being raised now to pay expenses for sending a group of skiers to represent the U. S. at the F. I. S. meet in 1940. All ski clubs and individuals should do their bit towards this worthy cause. We all want to see the American flag raised to the top of the mast in the ski world.

Oscar Cyr, director of the Newfound Region Ski School, will conduct the weekly slalom race as usual on Sunday. Another slalom will be held Sunday by the Winnepesaukee Ski Club of Laconia, and the Plymouth Swiss Ski School will run a similar event at Wendy's Slope in Plymouth.

At the Dartmouth Outing Club's new Racine Camp at Mt. Moosilauke, the Intercollegiate Outing Club will conduct its annual ski party over the week-end. About a hundred young men and women are expected in the delegations coming from a dozen colleges and universities. All competitions will be informal.

SKI FEVER: Annice Brink, the Boston American's skiing Fashion Editor, who just came back from a two-weeks vacation in Canada, thought seriously of going back there—for the week-end!

NASAKAZU KOBAYASHI, a Japanese silk importer of New York City, who learned to ski in his native snowhills at Echigo, Japan, before coming to this country two years ago, said he had never before seen winter sports facilities that compared with those he found on his initial trip to New Hampshire last week. Nasakazu took up skiing as a college student at the Tokyo University of Commerce whence he graduated six years ago.

CLASSY ENTRY FOR AMATEUR SHOW

If you have any doubt about New England amateur boxers being interested in making the team that will represent this section at the National Championships in San Francisco the second week in April, one must look over the 58 entries already on file for next Monday night's second tryout tourney which the Irish American A. A. will offer at the Arena.

These youthful punch tossers will battle in all 8 classes at championship weights. The winners will qualify for the grand finals of the New England Boxing Championships, which are to be held at the Boston Garden on March 13.

The welterweight class will be a standout. Listed for action in that division are Larry Bergeron, Worcester; Raymond McCarthy, City Mills; Ernie Andrew, Boston; Eugene Boulden, Providence; James Griffin, Lawrence; Salvatore Matta, Rutland; Eugene Robichaud of Worcester, former state and N. E.

GENE ROBICHAUD
1938 State Welter King

All-America champion at the weight; Steve Lombardi, Cambridge and John DeCosta of Brockton.

DeCosta has been an outstanding battler in the shows held at Brockton this season. He is a product of the WPA school and is trained by Jack McGowan, who brought Joe Monte, Jack Twohig and many other stars to the front.

In six shows, DeCosta has won four lost one because of an injury and was defeated once.

M. D. C. Sunday Hike In Middlesex Fells

The Sunday hike and nature walk under the direction of Edward L. Farrell of the Metropolitan District Commission and the W. P. A. Division of Recreation will be held through the Middlesex Fells Reservation in Medford.

The walkers on the long excursion will meet at the M. D. C. police station, Fellowship west, at 2 p. m., while at the same meeting point, at 2:30 p. m., Harry George Higbee, staff naturalist, will lead the group of nature lovers over four miles of woodland trails visiting en route the old Silver Mines and South Reservoir.

Hia topic for discussion will concern "Winter Birds."
